

QS Unisolution is a young, international company with offices in Stuttgart, London and Bucharest. We provide innovative IT solutions in the field of higher education, which are already being used by over 300 institutions worldwide. We support providers of education in optimising their organisation and work processes. We similarly help to strengthen market position through online education portals, marketing tools, highly advanced CRM products and procedures for the electronic transfer of data.

If you share our enthusiasm for education, and innovative software solutions in higher education, we are looking to fill the following position in our Stuttgart (Germany) office with an immediate start.

Project Manager m/w/d

Key Duties and Responsibilities:

- You will manage implementation projects and online and onsite training for our clients, mainly universities.
- Projects will be handled in English and French, a working knowledge of German is desirable
- As part of these projects you will analyze the client's requirements and plan and manage the implementation of the customization of the system
- You will advise about the ideal implementation of the system in the institution
- You will deliver workshops and trainings for clients as part of the project either online or on-site
- You will be responsible for project planning, project controlling and project risk management
- You will coordinate the technical aspects of the implementation between the client and our internal technical team
- Data management skills, xml and xslt proficiencies desirable

Experience and Background:

- Around 2 years of experience with complex small to mid-size IT projects
- Experience with multi-project management Worked according to project management methodologies such as PRINCE2
- Ideally you have a certification in PRINCE2 or similar methodology
- Customer focus
- Good knowledge of Project Management tools and CRM Tools such as Salesforce
- Independent and structured method of working, willingness to travel
- Fluent English proficiency language

What we offer:

- A challenging and fascinating product in the international market of education
- An international team with a flat hierarchy and creative atmosphere
- Conveniently located office in a modern business park in Stuttgart with home office options available

Interested? Want to find out more?

Then send us your application including CV, reference, salary expectations and the earliest you would be available to start by email to:

Olivier Tane, career@qs-unisolution.com